

Key Take Aways

Your Next Chapter: Staying Involved and Finding Support

#1

An IEP is ongoing—not a one-time event

Keep reviewing progress, asking questions, and staying involved year-round.

Strong communication is essential

Build a partnership with teachers and specialists through regular check-ins.

#3

Your observations matter

Watch how your child is doing at home—your insights help shape future IEP decisions.

#4

You can request changes anytime

If something isn't working, you have the right to call an IEP meeting before the annual review.

#5

Resources and support are available

From national advocacy organizations to local parent groups, help is out there—you don't have to do this alone.
